

Back To The River

I don't owe nobody nothing here
Nobody owes me nothing in return
There's not a thing this place has given me
Didn't take a broken heart to earn

I need to go where I can find some peace
Far from the chaos in my mind
Don't want to wait another lonely day
In my soul I do believe it's time

I'm going back to the river
Back where the water's clean
Back to the river
Back to that bygone dream

I hear the chatter going round the town
Hear people saying that I'm insane
I just want to let those waters cover me
Until my body feels no pain

I've made my way along the crooked path
Now I got nothing left to fear
Feel like I'm turning into something new
The rivers telling me my time is near

I'm going back to the river
Back where the water's clean
Back to the river
Back to that bygone dream
