

Can't Hold Back The Sun

Feels like the spell is finally broken
Feels like the shadow's lifted from my eyes
For all the time those blues have taken
My freedom's come as such a sweet surprise

From the darkness of my window
I wondered if I'd ever see the light
But like a blackbird from the ruins
I can feel my spirit taking flight and I

Can't hold back the sun
Can't hold back the sun
It's been too cold it's been too long
I can't hold back the sun

I was shattered I was beaten
I was sure that I would fade away
Then the angel of the morning
Found a way to bring a brand new day and I

Can't hold back the sun
Can't hold back the sun
It's been too cold it's been too long
I can't hold back the sun

Gonna shake the devil off my shoulders
Gonna put my faith in what's to come
