

Hold You In My Heart

Today I woke up grateful
Today I woke up glad
Today I know the blessing
Of every trial I've had
The days to come don't seem so dark
'Cause I hold you in my heart

Got blue skies at my window
Sunshine in my face
Everything is how it should be
Nothings out of place
Even a rainstorm if it starts
'Cause I hold you in my heart

I never thought the night
Could ever shine so bright
That I'd see the truth that you reveal
The world I have to face
Is not such a lonely place
Knowing that your love is real

My spirit's in the heavens
The world is at my feet
And all I see's a good soul
In every one I meet
No distance can keep us apart
'Cause I hold you in my heart
