

When The Morning Comes

When the weight of the night is upon you
And you feel that the dawn's gone astray
When the stars have been blown out like candles
And the fair-weather moon's sailed away

When hope like a friend says he'll guide you
But he leaves you alone in the dark
With the weight of an empty promise
That is stowing away in your heart

Don't waist your tears on the sadness
They're only clouds in your eyes
Don't look to far and you'll find me
And I'll bring you peace of mind

For the night is the day only sleep
And moon will return as the sun
I'll be there while the weight is upon you
I'll be there when the morning comes
I'll be there when the morning comes
